EVENING WORSHIP

2. Welcome this shade that brings release from hurrying labour's noise and strife; that calls from restless thought to cease, and calms the throbbing pulse of life.

3. From tedious toil, from anxious care, dear Lord, I turn again to thee; thy presence and thy smile to share makes every burden light to me.

4. With thee, of all sad thoughts beguiled, peace nestles in my tranquil breast; and, like a pleased and happy child, in thy kind arms I sink to rest.

5. Till night's dark watches all are gone, O faithful Shepherd, guard my sleep, and, when yon mountains greet the dawn, give strength my heavenward way to keep.

Words: Ray Palmer. Music: Johannes Thomas Rüegg.
Copyright © 2012 Johannes Thomas Rüegg. Source: www.christmysong.com/664/