JESUS, HOW SWEET THY MEMORY ISI

2. Tongue cannot speak a lovelier word, nought more melodious can be heard, nought sweeter can be thought upon, than Jesus Christ, God's only Son.

> 6. If thou dost enter to the heart, then shines the truth in every part; all worldly vanities grow vile, and charity burns bright the while.

3. Jesus, thou hope of those who turn, gentle to those who pray and mourn, ever to those who seek thee, kind, – what must thou be to those who find!

> 7. This love of Jesus is most sweet, this laud of Jesus is most meet, thousand and thousand times more dear than tongue of man can utter here.

4. Jesus, thou dost true pleasures bring, light of the heart, and living spring; higher than highest pleasures roll, or warmest wishes of the soul.

> 8. Praise Jesus, all with one accord, crave Jesus, all, your love and Lord, seek Jesus, warmly, all below, and seeking into rapture glow!

5. Lord in our bosoms ever dwell, and of our souls the night dispel, pour on our inmost mind the ray, and fill our earth with blissful day.

> 9. Thou art of heavenly grace the fount, thou art the true Sun of God's mount, scatter the saddening cloud of night! And pour upon us glorious light!

Words: James W. Alexander, after Bernard of Clairvaux. Music: Johannes Thomas Rüegg. Copyright © 2014, 2016 Johannes Thomas Rüegg. Source: www.christmysong.com/69/