"LET THERE BE LIGHT"

- 2. And there was light: his word of power, by which the heavens were made, thrilled through that silent, wondrous hour; creation heard – obeyed.
- 3. God, who, when darkness held full sway, thus bid the light to shine, hath in our hearts shed brightest day, hath given us light divine.
- 4. The glorious Gospel of his Christ, our opened ears have heard; for God his new creation forms by that same living word.
- 5. Now, 'mid earth's solemn second night of ever deepening gloom, we wait a burst of heavenly light: the Lord himself shall come.
- 6. Soon shall the trump of God be heard; the dead in Christ shall rise; we, caught up with him, at his word, shall meet him in the skies.
- 7. Soon shall the shadows flee away before that dawning bright: soon shall we dwell in cloudless day, God and the Lamb our Light.
