GOD'S COMMANDMENTS ARE NOT HARD

- 2. Not slaves but sons, we gladly do whatever we are told, and with our love increases too our joy a thousandfold.
- 3. We work with silent industry, unconscious of the toil, as of itself some goodly tree bears fruit in fertile soil.
- 4. Our daily task we enter on with willing hearts and hands; the Lord in us has always done what he from us demands.
- 5. In all he wills we acquiesce, assured that it is best; at every time, in every place, with him we must be blessed.
- 6. Thus does the Christian thrive and grow, though poor, a wealthy man, and if we can't be happy so, I know not how we can.

Words: Carl Johann Philipp Spitta. Translation: Richard Massie. Music: Johannes Thomas Rüegg. Copyright © 2010, 2016 Johannes Thomas Rüegg. Source: www.christmysong.com/244/