BREAD ENOUGH AND TO SPARE

- 2. True bread of heaven, and bread of God, in thee we find eternal store:to thee in our deep need we come; give us thyself for evermore.
- 3. True bread of life, the Father's gift, to feed the famished sons of earth; who eateth of thee hungers not, even in this land of human dearth.
- 4. Life of the dead, O living Christ! pour in thy life into our death, that we, all faint of soul, may know the power of thine all-quickening breath.
- 5. Quickened by thee, no death we fear; sustained by thee, our weakness turns to strength immortal; touched by thee, our coldness into fervour burns.
- 6. Fed at thy table, we are filled; each day repeats the sweet repast, sweeter and sweeter still, for thou keepest the best unto the last.
