THE HOLY COMFORTER

- 2. Each celestial truth reveal; Christ's rich treasury unseal; thine indwelling let me feel, Fount of pure delight!
- 3. While a little longer space here my lonely path I trace, pour within rich streams of grace; form a garden there.
- 4. Then, though all around may be but a wilderness for me, sheltered from its dearth by thee, all things will seem fair.
- 5. While thou deign'st my heart to bless with thy presence, thy sweet peace, can I pine in loneliness? Can I wish for more?
- 6. No! Thou Comforter Divine, if thy fellowship be mine, earthly converse I resign, fondly priced before.
- 7.Life was for this end bestowed, to acquaint myself with God: oft the loneliest pathway trod nearer leads to him.

- 8. Guide into all truth! be thou my Divine Instructor now; be my views no longer low, indistinct and dim!
- 9. Rend the darkening veil that shrouds those bright scenes above the clouds; show me those serene abodes where "is no more night."
- 10. Where the Father and the Son, with thyself for ever one, shed from the eternal throne, everlasting light.
- 11. Then will all the shadows here lose their charms, and disappear, lost in that resplendent sphere opened to Faith's eye.
- 12. Quickened by its glorious ray I shall hasten on my way, till I drop these bonds of clay and to Jesus fly.
